FOREWORD

We have tried to make the 1929 Interlachen an accurate pictorial history of this school year at Southern College. Into it we have put the things that we considered significant—things that in years coming will suggest a world of recollections.

It has been our purpose to strike the first few notes of each melody, leaving to your memory the completion of the tune.

May this book be the door that will open to you a pleasant room of reminiscence.

CARL S. COX

There is a man who has given seven years of unstinted service to Southern College. He is friendly; he is helpful; he is sympathetic; he is respected and liked by everyone. As a tangible expression of the feeling of the student body for him, the Interlachen staff dedicates the 1929 book to Dean Carl S. Cox—a dean among men.

Dr. Spivey Speaks

This Annual tells its own story. It not only tells who we are but what we look like. The Editor has given me this page on which to write anything I choose.

I cannot refrain from writing a word to our departing Seniors. They seem to be nearer to our hearts right now because they are leaving our campus forever as students.

My good wishes and personal regards are going with each one of you. As you go to take your places in our rapidly moving world, I shall be watching eagerly your progress.

While we who stay in Southern continue to give our best for its future, I want you to know that you are still members of our institution and you are Southern out in the great world. Southern College is you. Our friends will know us by what you think and do.

I am, however, not unmindful of the noble band of students who are to remain with us, some for three, some for two, and some for one or more years.

While you are on your vacation this summer, Southern wants you to hold a large place in your mind and heart for her. I hope your love and devotion for your college will be revealed in all that you do, so that others seeing your fine loyalty will not only believe in you but will be constrained to follow you back to Southern next fall.

Finally I wish to express my appreciation to the Editor and Manager of the INTERLACHEN and to all others who have shared in its make-up.

My hope is that life will find full expression in all your lives.

Sincerely yours,

Under the capable supervision of Dr. Roy L. Stockrahm, the Extension Department has become a vital and important factor in Southern's calendar of activities. It has furnished a means of profitable employment for leisure time to some and has offered college courses to many for whom higher education would otherwise have been impossible.

It was, of course, impossible to transport the entire college curriculum to the neighboring cities. Therefore only such courses as were conceded to be of special interest and value to the groups affected were offered, but with such gratifying results that in the future it will prove feasible to offer a wider range of subject-matter.

Extension schools have been conducted in Winter Haven, Plant City, Lakeland, Haines City, Pierce, and Wauchula. The courses offered were: General Psychology, English, and American Literature, Educational Tests and Measurements, Bible, the Psychology of Elementary School Subjects, Statistics, and Sociology.

From the nature of the subjects inculcated in the Extension curricula it is evident that they are of special importance to grade school teachers who are desirous of amplifying their training in the fields of psychology and education—ever growing and progressing fields, demanding that teachers pursue new courses frequently in order to keep up to date. In this respect the Extension Department has been, and will continue to be, of untold value to the elementary and secondary schools of the vicinity.

Dr. Stockrahm is admirably fitted for the work, having obtained his A.B. degree from Indiana State Normal School, and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Indiana University. This educational background, his organizing ability, and genial personality have contributed largely to the success of the school.

Clubs

Southern Club

The Southern Club is an organization of long standing on the Southern College campus. It was founded by members of the faculty and outstanding men of the campus for the purpose of promoting extracurricular work and for the encouragement of scholarship among the men. The club has a permanent membership of twelve men, the number being kept intact by each Senior's tapping one under-graduate member at the end of each year.

Carlton, Wasson, Keller, Spivey, Dugan, Godbold, Harker, Mosley, Reese, Tolle, Anderson.

The Sports Club

The Sports Club, Southern's youngest organization is one of very high standing. It has for its motto: "Play the Game," and each of its thirty-six members represents well the ideals of the club.

Before membership is granted into the Sports Club a girl must show interest enough in sports or other college activities to gain twenty-five entrance points. Each member is given opportunities to gain points in all types of campus activities, therefore making each member a broad-minded and an enthusiastic student. For a given number of points the college letter, emblem and sweater is given. Three of the members have been awarded letters this year.

Since the club was not organized until November, 1929, its activities have not been as numerous as it is hoped they will be in the future. The carnival, which will be its annual entertainment on the campus, was a great success. Several outdoor parties were enjoyed by the club.

Out of its ranks came an excellent basket-ball team which had at the seasons end six victories and one defeat.

The Y. W. C. A. is perhaps the most representative organization on the campus, since every girl in school takes some part in its activities if she wishes to do so. This college-wide automatic membership was inaugurated this year and has been enthusiastically received.

As a well-rounded organization, the Y. W. C. A. seeks to correlate the religious and social life of the college, supervising both recreational and spiritual phases. It provides opportunities for the enjoyment of leisure time and maintains a home-like atmosphere in the dormitory. It encourages co-operative problem solving and mutual exchange of experiences through discussion groups led by the young women themselves. Intellectual reflection and creative thinking is stimulated by capable speakers.

Morita Sage, Voncile Rodgers, Marjorie Rushmore, Nell Alexander, Elizabeth Shoemaker, Winnie Farley, Jill La Pierre, Virginia Jinkins, Mary Crooke.

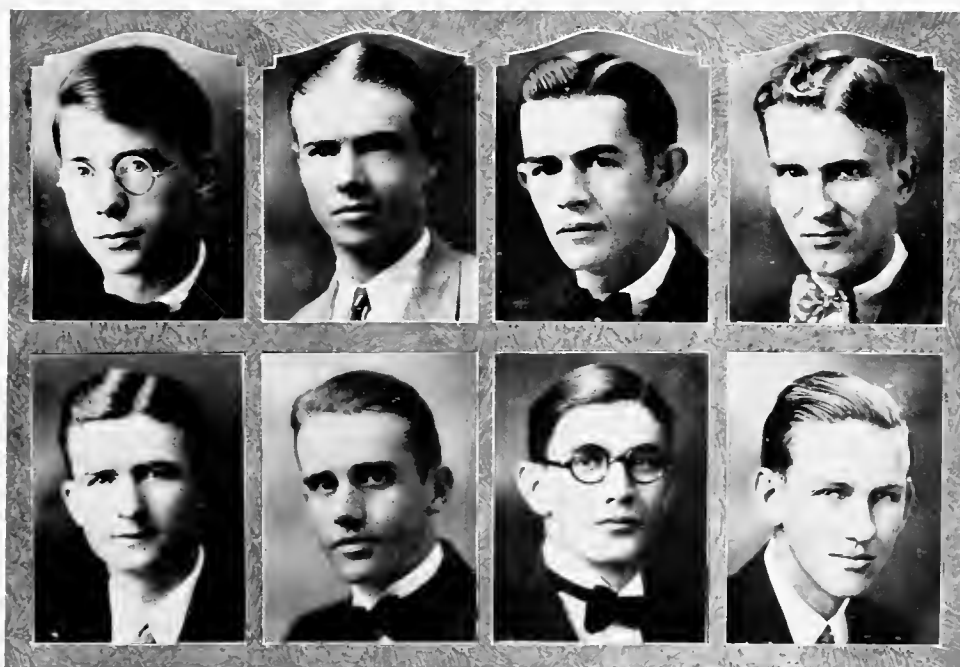

Alpha Delta

Alpha Delta is the officially recognized ministerial fraternity of the college. It had an early origin in the college and is evolved from the Oxford Fellowship, which had its beginning in a loose association of ministerial students.

The purpose of Alpha Delta is to further fellowship among the ministerial and religious education students of Southern and to institute a deeper and finer appreciation of religion among the students of the campus.

Worship and religious activities are stressed in the club meetings. The study of model sermons and the deliverance of original addresses is included in the program of the club for the year.

Babcock, Melton, Hedden, Knoff, Hardin, Schauburger, Miley, Gutteridge.

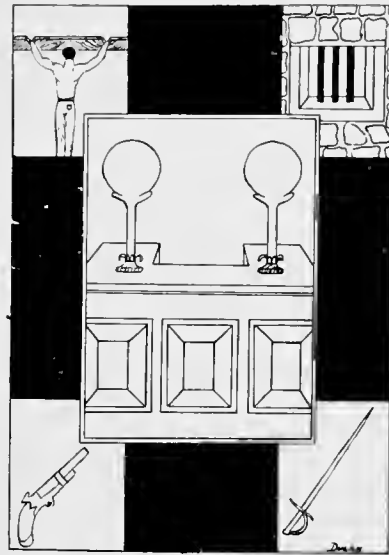

Chi Delta Nu

The purpose of the Chi Delta Nu fraternity of Southern College is to try to benefit in every way possible each individual on Southern's campus. Its special purpose is to gather together in a fraternity all the young women on the campus interested in Christian leadership that they may be of greatest help to the College and that they may derive mutual benefit from one another in their meetings, discussions, and study periods together. The principles and ideals which the Chi Delta Nu stands for and upholds are the teachings of Christ: love, unselfishness, kindness, devotion, justice and good-will toward all.

Farley, Phillips, Akins, Webster, Alexander, Sumner, English, Ross, Swope, Murray, Major, Hodnett, Gibson, Sue Shivers, Hannah Phillips.

Governing

Women's Parliament

This is a system of government that rules the entire girls' student body, having for its purpose the promotion of better student activities and the encouragement of all matters pertaining to the good of Southern College. The Parliament meets monthly in a joint session with the Assembly in a body known as the Senate.

This is a thoroughly democratic system. Every girl is a member of some group which sends its representative to Parliament. These representatives are chosen according to the memberships of the groups, allowing one representative for every fifteen members or fraction thereof.

The groups sending representative to cast their votes are: Sororities, Forum and Bloc. The Forum is a group of dormitory girls who do not belong to any other organization. The Bloc is a similar organization of girls who live off the campus.

The Parliament legislates on (1) rules for Freshmen, (2) conduct for women students while under jurisdiction of the college, (3) organization of clubs and fraternities, provided that any group desires recognition, and (4) social affairs, with a budget made to finance miscellaneous needs and social functions.

Turner, Pipkin, Farley, McQueen, Hughey, Lockhart, Curn, La Pierre, Steele, Rushmore, Jones, Barco, Cramer, Hurlbut, Schuman, Shoup.

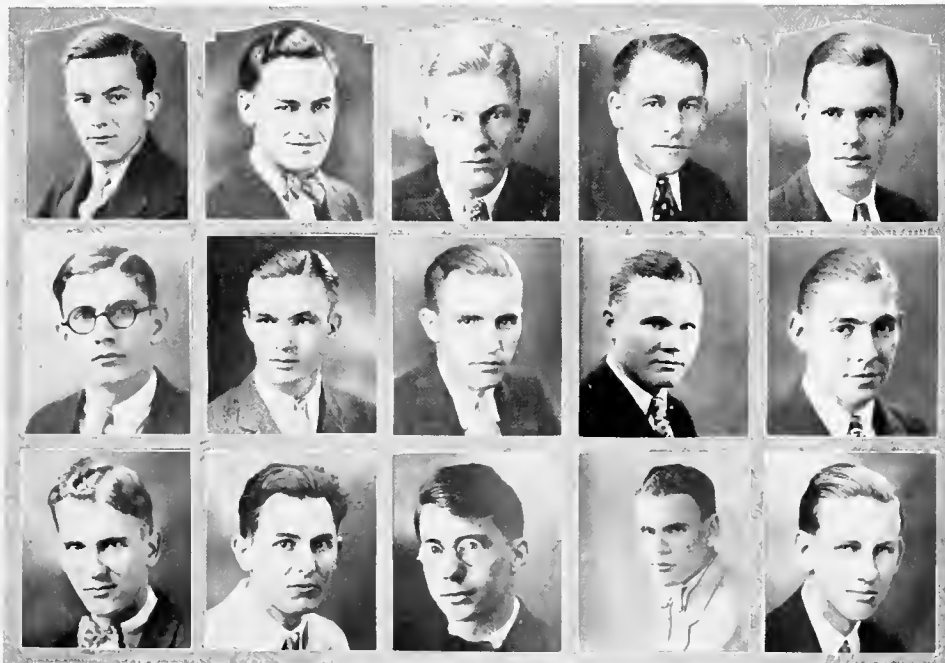

Men's Assembly

The Men's Assembly of Southern College was organized in the Spring of '28 through the efforts of Dr. Warren G. Keith, and for the purpose of initiating student government at Southern College. Each organization on the campus sent at least one representative to the Assembly, while the larger were allowed two. The Assembly met every week to consider matters of interest to the students. In conjunction with the faculty and the Girls' Parliament, the Assembly worked out an efficient system of student government.

In the Spring of 1929 certain changes were voted by the body and a new constitution adopted. Among other changes the Parliament and Assembly were combined under one head and called The Student Council of Southern College. The number of representatives was diminished and elected from the different classes instead of from groups. This Council is to have supervision of all student activities and will act in the capacity of a disciplinary board when needed. With time, it is hoped that a state of perfection in student government will be attained and a sympathetic co-operation between students and faculty effected that could not be secured in any other way.

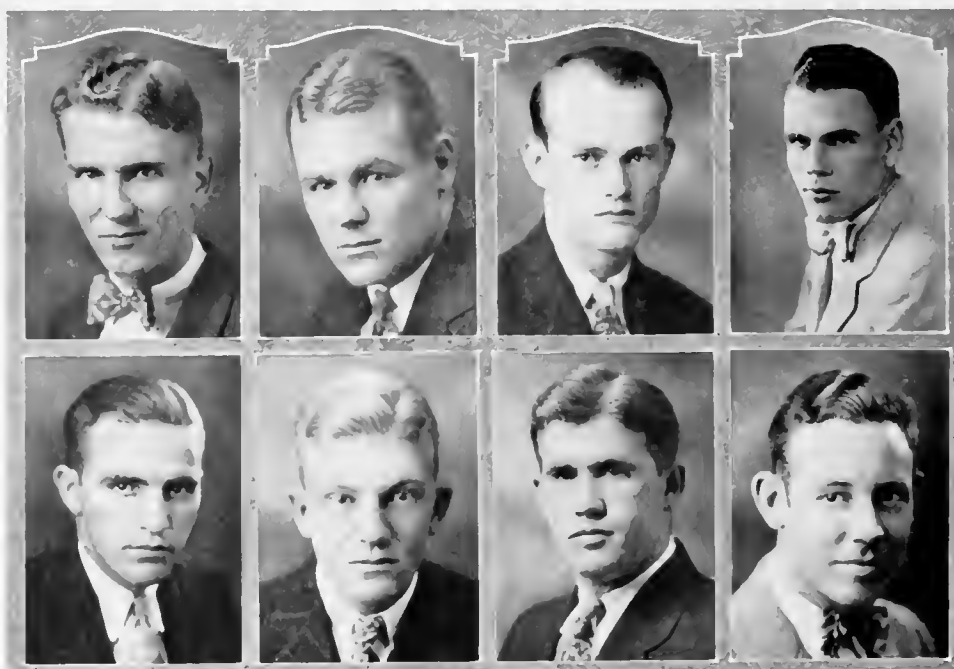

Anderson, Braswell, Godbold, Harker, Major, Miley, Tolle, Spivey, Spooner, Mitchell, Knoff, Harrison, Babcock, Jones, Gutteridge, Marion Schauburger, Charles McConnell.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The Inter-Fraternity Council is an organized group, composed of representatives from the men's fraternities of the campus, whose purpose is to promote good fellowship among the fraternity men, to legislate any necessary rules, to execute its rules and to foster a wholesome fraternity life at the college.

Knoff, Rou, W. Jones, M. Jones, Spivey, Godbold, Wilson, Summers.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan-Hellenic Council is for the purpose of promoting and encouraging friendship among the sororities. It is composed of three representatives from each sorority who regulate rush rules, legislate and superintend any matters arising among the groups, and formulate general sorority rules.

Willis, Curn, Perry, La Pierre, Shoemaker, Davis, Goodwin, Watson, Hunt, Crump, Rodgers, Pipkin.

Women's Government Association

The Women's Government Association is vested in a representative body, known as the W. G. A. This association was formed in September, 1926, for the purpose of promoting a more highly efficient and better organized system of dormitory government.

As the government is now organized, every resident in the dormitory is a member of the Women's Government Association. The affairs of this association are in the hands of the Council, composed of eleven student representatives: One Freshman, two Sophomores, three Juniors and four Seniors, the President of the Y. W. C. A., the Dean of Women. The President of the College is a member ex-officio.

The Council, with the consent of the President of the College and the Dean of Women, passes all laws and regulations related to the social activities of the women on the campus. By the call-down system, students are reported for violating the general rules given out by the Council. Reports are given according to the seriousness of the offense committed.

There has been a splendid spirit of co-operation shown between the Council and the students and this form of government has adapted itself very successfully to the needs of Southern.

Pipkin, Crump, Turner, Cramer, Perry, Willis, Jones, Sage, Shoemaker, Love.

Stage

Southern Vagabonds

Organized and directed by Miss Marguerite Wills, the Southern Vagabonds have for their purpose the fostering of dramatics through Southern and Southern through dramatics. The club, which had its beginning in 1925, is one of the most enthusiastic of the campus.

Its ideals include the presentation and encouragement of better dramas, not only in the college, but throughout Florida. With this ideal in mind, a state high school one-act play tournament was held recently under its supervision at the college. This tournament was the first of its kind in Florida. Because of its great success, the tournament has been incorporated in the plans of the club as one of the annual events.

The Southern Vagabonds have been recognized by several national dramatic fraternities and various magazines—"The Billboard," "The Drama Magazine," "The Theatre Arts Monthly," and the "Theatre Magazine."

Though there are no dues attached to the organization, the treasury has realized a large income from the play receipts, which has been used in modernly and efficiently equipping a stage for its use.

MARGUERITE WILLS
Head of Department of Speech

Dramatics at Southern College receive much recognition. The Department of Speech, including public speaking, interpretation, expression, play directing and play producing, is one of the outstanding departments.

The School of Speech has at its head Miss Marguerite Wills. She is assisted by Miss Dorothy Cooper. Both are well trained in their field and have done much to advance dramatics at Southern.

The department of expression includes in its program for the year several graduate recitals and a number of student recitals. Programs, including readings, one-act plays and stunts are presented at the churches, civic and social clubs of Lakeland and the nearby cities. Each expression student is encouraged by public appearances.

Inter-collegiate debates are held in connection with the debating society and entrance of the students into national contests is urged by the department. A Speakers' Bureau is being developed which will offer the services of the best student speakers to the civic organizations of the surrounding communities.

Through the Southern Vagabonds, the dramatic organization, a number of plays of high calibre are presented each year.

Make-up, stage technique and play production is studied in the class of Play Directing. In this class each member is required to direct a one-act play during the term. A number of those selected this year were:

- "The Thrice Promised Bride"*
- "The Monkey's Paw"*
- "The Boor"*
- "The Old Peabody Pew"*
- "A Night at an Inn"*
- "The Finger of God"*
- "The Spreading of the News"*

The Art Department

"Beauty is its own excuse for being."

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

To those desiring thorough training in drawing, sketching, color and painting, the Art Department of Southern College provides splendid facilities. Anyone planning to make a special study of this branch of the fine arts may be assured of obtaining an excellent foundation from this Department.

For the cultural supplement of a liberal education—essential for a practical study of Art and highly desirable for any other field—the Department offers courses in designing, interior decoration, the History of Art, and costume designing. To meet another need in a still more practical field, courses in lettering and commercial art are offered. Thus the needs of students in any one or all of the three phases of Art—purely creative, cultural and commercial—are effectively met.

Southern College is to be congratulated for having as head of the Art Department Miss Glada Blake Walker, who has studied at the Chicago Art Institute and is a graduate of the Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. Miss Walker is not only a capable instructor, but is also a skillful artist, having won renown for her oil paintings and charcoal drawings. Through her untiring and efficient efforts the Art Department has grown until it has attained a position of pre-eminence among the various departments of the college. The studio is one of the most attractive rooms on the campus. In addition to the routine or regular class room activities, its work is extracurricular, assisting in designing and executing costumes for various dramatic activities and other public occasions. The success of the annual May Day fete given by the college is due largely to the efforts of the Art Department. Furthermore, through the direction of Miss Walker, students of the Department assist in decorating for parties and banquets sponsored by various organizations on the campus.

School of Music

PROF. HOWARD J. BARNUM

"Music, which gentler on the spirit lies Than tired eyelids upon tired eyes."

Southern College is indeed fortunate in having secured Professor Howard J. Barnum as director of its recently reorganized School of Music. Professor Barnum, who comes with splendid recommendations from DePauw University where for sixteen years he headed the department of violin and harmony, is a man of wide experience, both as musician and organizer. He has won great renown not only as solo violinist on the concert stage, but also as orchestra and choir director, and has proved so successful as a teacher that many of his pupils are now occupying responsible positions in the world of music.

Professor Barnum has been most ably assisted by Mrs. Helen Wood Barnum, Instructor in Piano and Director of "Melody Way" classes for children—a system of instruction for beginners which is believed to be one of the most promising forces for the musical advancement of the next generation. He is also assisted by Elbert E. Harris, Instructor in Piano, Organ, and Composition; Miss Edna B. Smith, Instructor of Public School Music; Mrs. Louise Helmkamp, Assistant Instructor of Public School Music; Mr. Harry Mayall, Leader of Band, and Instructor in Voice.

Mrs. Barnum is a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College, has studied under famous instructors, has held prominent positions as Instructor in Piano at Iowa State University and DePauw, and is herself an eminent musician. Professor Harris is a graduate of Oberlin College Conservatory, a pupil of Paul Van Katwyk, and has likewise won fame as a brilliant concert artist. Mr. Mayall has for many years been prominent as a Band Leader in the South, and was director of the Iowa State Band. The Department of Public School Music has had two highly competent instructors in Mrs. Helmkamp and Miss Smith.

It is with deep regret that we announce the recent death of Professor Louis Alberti, who for many years served Southern College so efficiently and faithfully as Instructor in Voice. Professor Alberti was not only a true artist, but a man of sterling qualities who was well-loved by the entire personnel of the college. His work is now under the supervision of Miss Harriet Barnum, a very talented young musician, who has proved a capable instructor in voice on the staff of Southern's School of Music.

The School of Music now offers a three-year diploma course, with piano, voice, violin, or organ as a major study, and aims to provide facilities for all those desirous of securing any kind of musical instruction. It has been of real service to the community as a whole, and Southern College may well be proud of her School of Music and its splendid faculty.

The members of the Glee Club have gained the support of the entire college, and have met with a cordial reception wherever they have appeared, both in Lakeland and elsewhere.

IN MEMORIAM

PROFESSOR
LOUIS ALBERTI

1866-1929

Prof. Louis Alberti was born in Denmark, near Copenhagen, in the year 1866. His father, who for many years was associated with a great railway system in Denmark, gave special care to the education of his children. Louis, who received his Master's degree from the Metropolitan College of Copenhagen, was fortunate in having, as his instructors in music, teachers of national fame.

He came to America soon after his graduation and spent a few years in New York City teaching music. After his marriage, he decided to teach in the South where he has given several years of efficient service. Before coming to Florida he spent several years in Georgia, teaching in the LaGrange Female College. Later he moved to Virginia, where he taught for some time at Sullins College. In 1921 he came to Southern College, where he remained until his declining health made it necessary for him to tender his resignation, which was accepted with deep regret.

In a few weeks after returning to his home in Massachusetts, he declined very rapidly and while everything that medical science and loving care could render was given, yet all could not avail and on March the 15th he peacefully passed away and Sunday, March 17th, was tenderly laid to rest in Greenfield, Mass.

Prof. Alberti leaves a devoted wife and three sons and one daughter to mourn his death. It was his one great desire to see each one of his children graduated from college. Had he lived until June this desire would have been fulfilled for the youngest son and youngest child, the daughter, will both graduate in June, 1929.

One of the strongest evidences of his influence upon his pupils was the many letters he frequently received from pupils from different states. These letters he prized most highly, for they bore testimony of abiding affection for a teacher who had given them a new outlook upon life and brought many into the fellowship of the greatest of all teachers, the Man of Galilee.

Many of us will bear witness that life is richer and deeper since Prof. Alberti became a member of the Southern College faculty. We shall remember him as a loyal friend and a cultured Christian gentleman.

The Beta Mu Fraternity, which is the oldest Chapter on the campus, was founded in 1924, by six charter members. The Fraternity has moved several times since it was organized but is now comfortably established in a beautiful home on Lake Hollingsworth. Dr. R. S. Bly has been faculty advisor for the group since it was organized, and Mrs. T. C. Banks has been House Mother for the same period of time. The Beta Mu Fraternity has been one of the most active organizations on the campus and has contributed much to Southern's growth. Last year this group paved the entrance to the campus, adding much to the attractiveness of the College.

Mrs. Clara Cox is the matron of the group. Kappa Gamma Tau

The Kappa Gamma Tau Sorority was organized secretly as a club in 1924. A year later, when permission was given for the organization of sororities, the identity of its members was revealed and it was recognized as a sorority. It has always held its standards high and has done much for the benefit of the campus. The Mack Scholarship cup, a trophy given to the sorority having the highest scholastic average each year, was awarded to this group in 1928.

Omega Chapter Founded 1925

The local chapter of Alpha Phi Epsilon had its inception several years ago when a group of men on the campus organized themselves into "The Micosimpsar" to encourage debating on Southern's campus. At first there was some difficulty in having this group recognized, but after a time the faculty granted its permission to work on the campus.

Alpha Phi Epsilon has sponsored debates with the University of Florida, the University of Alabama, the University of Miami and Rollins College. The members of the Varsity debating team this year were Frank Anderson, Collins Mitchell and Gerald Knoff, with Max Harrison an alternate. This team has debated on the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the jury system should be abolished."

Pi Gamma Mu

Established at Southern College, April, 1927

Pi Gamma Mu is a national honorary social science fraternity, organized for the purpose of inculcating ideals of scholarship and of instilling in the mind of the individual a scientific attitude toward all social questions.

Membership is vested in those students who have attained a high degree of scholarship, having especially distinguished themselves in the study of social science and in those citizens who are active social workers. A student may not be elected until he is a member of the Junior class.

Pi Gamma Mu had its origin at Southwestern University, Winfield, Kansas, 1924. Since that time it has expanded rapidly, so that in October, 1928, there were seventy-one chapters enrolled. The local chapter received its charter in 1929.

COACH BURBAGE

Coach Jess Samuel Burbage took up the athletic reins at Southern College where Coach Jimmy Haygood had left off, stepped into his first position as varsity football coach, and produced a football team which fought its way to the top of the association list.

Prior to assuming the duties of director of athletics at Southern, Coach Burbage served a year as Freshman coach. He scored such a meritable record with his first year men that he was immediately promoted to his present position when Coach Haygood decided to cast his lot with Alabama.

Southern's 1928 Moccasin team won for Coach Burbage much favorable comment from football coaches and other critics of the game.

Coach E. P. "Robin" Hood, mentor of the Freshman athletes, made his debut at Southern College with the beginning of the 1928 football season and was quickly set up by students, faculty, football fans and Lakeland citizens as a favorite worthy of generous good will and support.

His personality and professional ethics together with his thorough knowledge of football and his coaching ability fit him well for the work he is doing at Southern. He is essentially a leader of young men.

With but a handful of candidates, he produced a creditable Freshman football and basket-ball team.

COACH HOOD

In student days, Coach Hood gained wide recognition through his stellar tackle work on the University of Alabama eleven. Before coming to Southern, he had gained considerable experience at coaching. He served at Woodlawn High School, Birmingham, Ala., and at Howard College, of the same city.

Varsity Managers

Southern athletic teams were fortunate this year in having a competent group of managers. The men who filled these important positions were faithful to their duty and proved to be a great help to the coaches and to the teams they served.

Walter "Squire" Godbold ably "mothered" the best football team Southern has ever produced; Meigs Jones watched over the Moc basketball team and played half a season himself; Ralph Sumner not only ran on the cross-country team but also ran around for it in his capacity as manager; Hamilton Boulware took a leading part in organizing the tennis team and was manager during the 1929 season.

The 1928 edition of the Moccasins, hailed as the greatest football team ever produced by Southern College, passed through a season of marked success fraught with all the thrill and color associated with gridiron activities.

Under the guidance of Coach Samuel Burbage, the doughty wearers of Blue and White bung up a season's record which gave a good indication of their mentor's coaching ability, brought to light a squad of men who knew the value of team work, and won an immeasurable volume of favorable publicity for Southern College throughout the South.

Comparatively few in number, but moderately hefty in physique, the squad members reported for practice early in September to begin preparations for their annual skirmish against the strong Gator eleven of the University of Florida. Coach Burbage lost no time in whipping his men into shape, and had them well groomed when the whistle announced the start of hostilities on the afternoon of October 6, at Gainesville.

Florida won the classic affair, 26 to 0, duplicating the Gator victory of the previous season. The Moccasins displayed artillery considerably more damaging than was anticipated among members of the Gator camp, and it was through holding the mighty eleven of Orange and Blue scoreless through three periods that the Moccasins attracted wide attention and won generous praise from supporters of both teams. Fans who witnessed the fierce combat still are talking about the dogged stand put up by the Burbage trained troupers when they thrice held the Gators for downs while the ball was a distance of only inches from the goal line.

The notable stand against the Gators brought early predictions of a championship season for the Moccasins. Talk of a championship at first was labeled as overly optimistic, but the Southern warriors steadily battled their way through the schedule until they were fierce contenders against the University of Chattanooga for the honors of the season. Southern and Chattanooga topped the list of thirty colleges in the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association, and the clash of the two elevens ended in a deserved 19 to 0 victory for the Tennessee team. It is only fair to mention that on the day of that tragic defeat, December 8, three of the star Moccasins were nursing injuries and were forced to view the game from the stands.

Southern registered an easy victory over Piedmont, October 20, at Lakeland. The score was 27 to 0. The Georgia lads were no match for the Moc gridders of the first string, so Coach Burbage used reserves until he had given twenty-four men an opportunity to play.

The most significant victory of the season came on November 13, at DeLand, when Southern defeated Stetson University 13 to 0 before a spirited gathering of Home-coming Day fans, the Stetson portion of whom were there to see a Hatter victory and simultaneously to assist in dedicating Stetson's new athletic field. Governor Doyle Carlton, Senator Duncan U. Fletcher and other prominent persons affiliated with Stetson were there.

Southern scored a dozen first downs. Stetson gathered in eight. Despite the intense rivalry existing between the two teams, a remarkable quality of sportsmanship was displayed by both elevens, and by the student bodies of the two institutions.

Continuing their victory march, the consistently improving Moccasins, scored a colorful 18 to 0 victory over Erskine at Lake Wales, on November 12, to provide the feature event of Polk County's Armistice Day celebration.

The greatest marginal triumph of the season came on November 24, when Southern piled up a score of 58 to 0 against the Rollins College Tars. So superior was the strength of the first string Moccasins over the Tars that practically every reserve player was sent into action before the on-slaught was ended by the time-keeper's whistle.

Another battle, the results of which were close enough to satisfy the most exacting football fan, was staged on Southern field against Wofford, November 29. The score was 13 to 7. The Wofford gridders presented a crack eleven, but their best was not sufficient to cope with the strength of the steady Moccasin crew. It was Homecoming Day at Southern. Alumni left the field with glad hearts, for the triumph placed Southern in the lead over the other twenty-nine schools in the association for the first time since the Moccasins were placed on the S. I. A. A. roster.

"FOOTBALL BANQUET"

The eyes of gridiron fans from all over the South turned toward Southern field December 8 when Southern's Moccasins and Chattanooga's Moccasins clashed for the association title. Coach Burbage's crippled team fought valiantly for the coveted championship, but they were forced down to defeat by a superior team that merited the victory.

The 19 to 0 defeat at the hands of Chattanooga officially ended the season as the schedule originally was arranged, but Coach Burbage arranged a post-season game with the Miami Hurricanes of Miami University. That battle was staged at Miami January 1, and resulted in a deadlock of 13 to 13.

Marcus "Joker" Marchant was elected captain of the 1929 Moccasins at the annual banquet. Charlie Stevens was voted alternate-captain.

Freshman Football

By scoring victories over the Freshman elevens of Stetson University and Rollins College, the Baby Moccasin football warriors won the two most important games on their 1928 schedule and measured up to what Southern fans were demanding.

The strenuous battle against the Baby Hatters of Stetson brought a 6 to 0 victory for Southern, and a similar triumph was scored over the Rollins Tarlets.

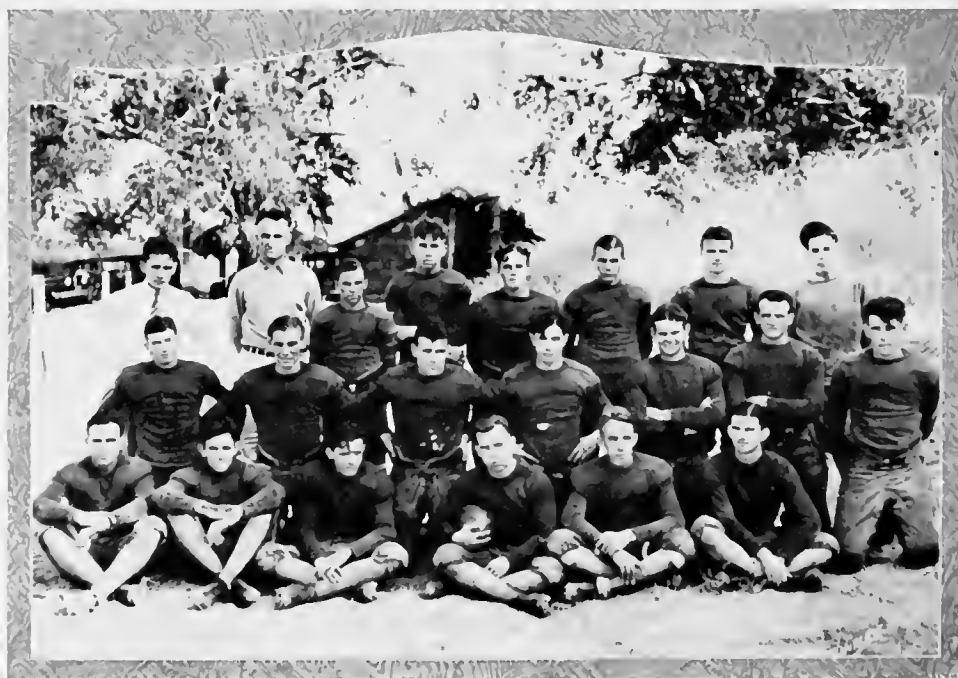

The first year Mocs chalked up a 6 to 6 tie in their first game with St. Petersburg Junior College but lost by a small count in the return engagement played in St. Pete.

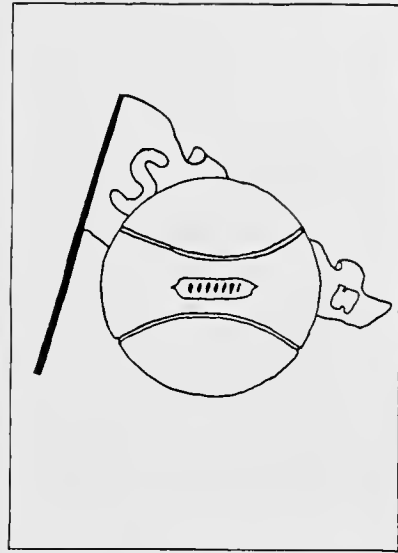

A 27 to 0 victory was scored over the Clearwater High School eleven.

A comparatively small number of candidates composed the first year squad, but they were a loyal group of fighters and gave Coach Hood their full co-operation.

It is predicted that on the Varsity of 1929 will be found several members of last season's Freshman team doing stellar work, both in the backfield and in the line.

Basket-Ball

MILTON SPIVEY

Captain, Center

Captain Milton "Twitty" Spivey finished his college basket-ball career with a "bang." Milton added more glory to his preceding record by leading his team through every game of a successful season. His is one of the best "triple threat" basket-eers in the South, passing, dribbling and shooting as only one who hails from Oklahoma can.

TAYLOR REESE

Guard

Taylor "Smiley" Reese closed his three years of basket-ball at Southern just as he has football, a star. He played floor guard and had the uncanny knack of shooting goals from the center of the floor at the critical moment. Next year's five will undoubtedly miss the services of this plucky Senior.

In spite of the fact that the wearers of the Blue and White started basket-ball a month later than any other S. I. A. A. team, they had a successful season and finished in the win column.

The Moccasins played a short schedule of 18 games, winning 13 for an average of 722.15 and amassing a total of 685 points for an average of 38 points a game.

The Mocs defeated every S. I. A. A. team in the State with the exception of Stetson, with whom a game could not be arranged.

KENDALL TOLLE

Guard

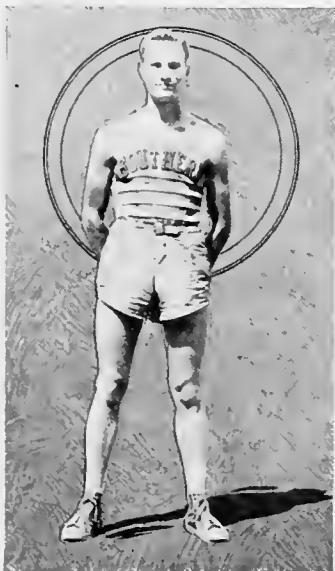

Kendall Tolle, guard and Senior, was the main stay of Southern's defense. He broke up shots with his hands, arms, legs, feet and body and fought until the last whistle was blown. This was Tolle's third year as a Varsity man. His basket-ball shoes will be hard to fill.

LOUIS BALDWIN

Guard

Louis "Baldy" Baldwin played forward or guard with ease. Baldy, the only Florida "Yankee" on the squad, stood the brunt of all the hard games and was a most valuable man to the team, due to the fact that when a goal was needed or an enemy forward needed to be guarded Baldwin was sent in.

The Southern basketeers enjoyed an eight-day road trip into Georgia and Alabama. Seven games were played in eight days which was a true test for every man on the squad.

The Southern "bucket shooters" attained one great honor that should be mentioned herein when they defeated the Fort Benning, Georgia, "dough boys." Southern is the only college team that has beaten "the army" in five years, and during this time such schools as Notre Dame, Georgia Tech and others have fallen before their offensive onslaught.

HERBERT LYON

Forward

Herbert "Buck" Lyon who claims Warren, Arkansas, as his stomping ground, was used to guard all the rough men on road trips and to play forward when there were no rough men to guard. "Buck", a Sophomore this year, should be a valuable asset to the team of 1930.

CLIFTON MURRELL

Forward

Clifton, who is known on the campus and all over the South as "Sloppy", continued his excellent basket-ball playing that he began last year as captain of the Freshmen. He had a bad habit of shooting baskets at any angle and most any time. "Sloppy" is alternate captain of the 1930 Moccasin team.

This fact alone shows that Southern has a "jam up" good team, even though practice didn't start until after January 5.

Three Seniors will be lost to the squad of 1930, but with five letter men back and the Freshman squad to pick from, Southern should go as far in S. I. A. A. basket-ball as they went this year in football.

RIGSBY SATTERFIELD

Guard

"Riggs" who got away to a late start due to injuries received during football season showed a neat style of basket-ball and should be one of the "big guns" of the Moccasins during his Junior year.

JACK SPIVEY

Forward

Jack "Son" Spivey, captain-elect, and only a Sophomore, is one of the fastest and best floormen that ever wore a Southern uniform. Jack can shoot, dribble and pass almost as well as his brother, Milton. With a year's captaincy and playing he should be a contender for all S. I. A. A. honors in 1930.

Freshman Basket-Ball

Under the able direction of Coach "Robin" Hood the Freshman basket-ball team made a good showing for itself during the 1929 season. Although the young Moccasins got away to a rather poor start, they ended up the season with a smooth running machine that was able to throw a scare into the varsity five on several occasions.

With the experience gained this year on the Rat squad, several of the Freshmen should make strong bids for places on the Varsity quint in 1930.

The best game played by the Freshmen during the season was their last when they threw an awful scare into the University of Florida's powerful Rat quint. The young Mocs led at the half and through the third quarter and only lost in the last few minutes of play when the defense finally cracked under the strain.

Minor Athletics

Cross-Country Team

Track has not been a major sport at Southern, and in the past has not received the attention that is given to football, basket-ball and baseball, but due to the efforts of a loyal few it has now aroused the interest of many of the other students who are willing to take part in the various events and able to bring new athletic laurels to their college.

The Cross-Country team, composed of Ralph Sumner, Joe Spooner, Jack Melton, Walter Spooner, Eddie Davis and Noble Hardee, is the group that has carried the burden of the track responsibilities for Southern, and in the meets that they have entered have done very creditably.

Melton, J. Spooner, Davis, Sumner.

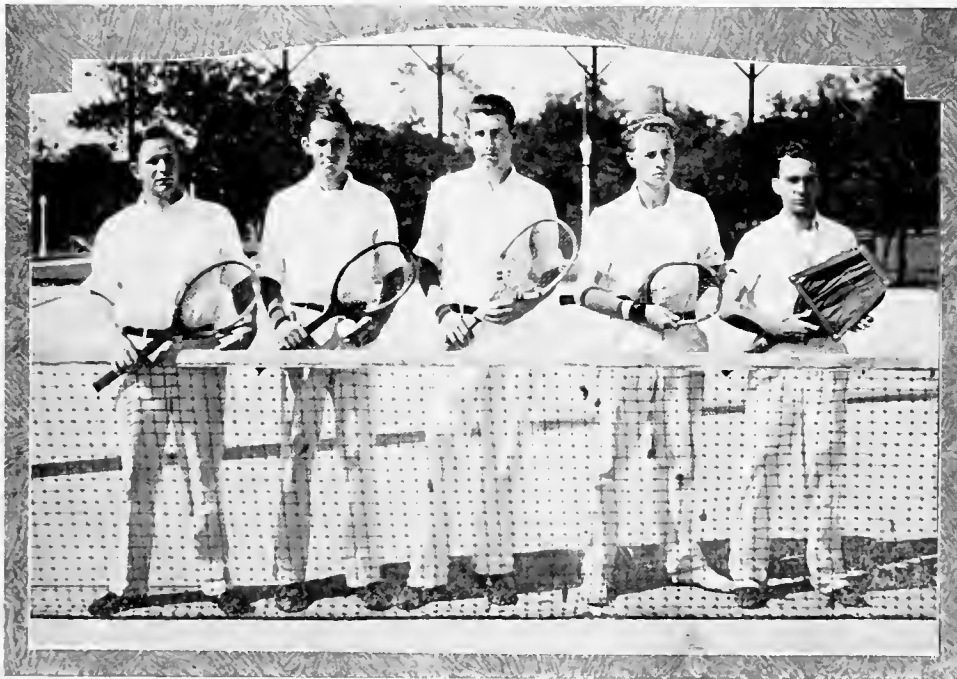

Tennis Team

Southern had her first tennis team since 1927 this year, and although it was organized rather late in the spring, it made a creditable showing for itself. The team was composed almost wholly of Sophomores and Freshmen and at the rate it went this season should really turn out to be a winner in the next two years.

Members of the team and temporary ranking are: Tarr, number one; Burkhardt, number two; Marcum, number three; Boulware, number four; Morrow, number five.

Doubles teams were: Tarr and Marcum; Burkhardt and Boulware.

Southern co-eds this year played their baseball in the fall just as soon as the big league teams had finished their season.
